

Access-Life Brings FIRST EVER Fall Farm Day to East Tennessee

You know Fall is Leanne's favorite time of the year. She loves it when the weather begins to cool, God brings out His paintbrush adding beautiful colors to the trees, and of course Thanksgiving and Christmas begin to draw near. So when our good friends at New Freedom Missionary Baptist church and Shady Grove Methodist church came to us and said we want to do something special this Fall for individuals and families living with disabilities in East Tennessee, we said "Let's do it"!

Everyone took a piece, stepped into a role and worked together just like the Body of Christ does. Coming together to share the love and Gospel of Jesus with those in need. It is so amazing to see God work through the hearts and minds of His people to be the hands and feet of Jesus to people who for the most part have come to realize this world in which we live is not all it is cracked up to be.

What do you mean, you might ask? Well from my personal experience and over 15 years in disability ministry, I can tell you that most people who deal with disability in some form or fashion have come to the awareness that there is more to this life than what the world offers. They know that there has to be something more. What is this something that is sweeter than honey, shines brighter than the sun, and lasts longer than forever? It's Jesus, pure and simple. He is the only thing that truly satisfies, brings the highest joy and the stillest peace that we all need and desire.

That's what we at Access-Life do: bring people Jesus, so God can fill their lives with His light and their hearts with His love. All the way, we want to communicate to individuals and family members living with disabilities that with God all things are possible, through Christ we can do all things, and hope in God never disappoints. God is always faithful and never fails.
